

Collaboration Technologies - What's Next?

Alberto Leon-Garcia
University of Toronto

The Shifting Power Equation

- Commodity computing, software, communications:
 - “from computing systems that communicate to communication systems that compute”
- Cost of collaboration drops
 - Collaboration between individuals
 - Changes nature of enterprise
- Power will shift to the communicators

The logo for the University of Tennessee (UT) is located in the top-left corner. It features a stylized 'U' in red and white, with 'of' in a smaller font, and a 'T' in blue and white.

Session Focus

- Collaboration Technologies - What's Next?
- Near term in the enterprise
- Embedded in the environment
- Collateral

Agenda

- Session Chair
 - Alberto Leon-Garcia, ECE Department, University of Toronto
- Panel: 20 minute presentations
 - Larry Hargrove, Business Development Executive, IBM Telecommunications, IBM Global Services Canada
 - Roel Vertegaal, Human Media Lab, Queen's University
 - Charles Clarke, Dept. of Computer Science, University of Waterloo
- Q & A