

Connecting Northern Ontario's Research and Education Community

Many rural and remote areas in Northern Ontario lack the high-speed broadband connectivity enjoyed by most of the province. Research and education networks play a critical role in unlocking Northern Ontario's economic potential.

ORION outlines the challenges and recommendations to ensure we all have access to essential connectivity and digital services.

CHALLENGES

Cost

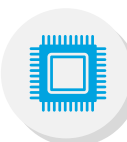

Geography

Regional government coordination

Availability of local expertise

Existing infrastructure

RECOMMENDATIONS

Boost capacity and resilience of research and education network

Secure funding with partners

Partner with established service providers

Produce plan for shared technology services
